Community Recovery Human and Social Recovery Training and Capability Development Framework

Training is a critical factor in the successful delivery of human and social recovery services. In a high pressure environment, training provides the Ready Reserve with the knowledge, skills and confidence to perform their functional role in the State or District Recovery Event Management Teams (SREMT & DREMT)

The Training Matrix

Identifies training groups and outlines the online learning pathway appropriate for each functional role. The Matrix articulates the courses for each training group to develop community recovery knowledge and skills.
